Call cost estimate

Exotel AgentStream and Sarvam, for the Version 11 call

29 October 2026

Exotel rings the customer and carries the audio. Sarvam hears the customer, answers an unmatched sentence, and speaks. The script, the model, Saaras, and Bulbul stay as they are. Every money table shows the amount before GST, GST at 18 percent, and the amount with GST.

1. Rates used

The channel prices are the ones given by the Exotel sales person. Sarvam's rates are the published pay-as-you-go prices. AgentStream's own overview page does not list a price, and voice streaming is excluded from Exotel's published phone-system plans.

Exotel, per channel per month

Charge	When it applies	Ex GST	GST 18%	With GST
AgentStream channel	Fewer than 100 channels	₹1,000.00	₹180.00	₹1,180.00
AgentStream channel	100 channels or more	₹675.00	₹121.50	₹796.50
Telco channel	Every channel, added on top	₹675.00	₹121.50	₹796.50
Both, under 100 channels	Working reading of the sales note	₹1,675.00	₹301.50	₹1,976.50
Both, 100 channels or more	Working reading of the sales note	₹1,350.00	₹243.00	₹1,593.00

"Plus" in the sales note is read as both fees applying to each channel. If the telco fee is not added on top, five channels cost ₹5,000 before GST (₹5,900 with GST) rather than ₹8,375 (₹9,882.50 with GST). Sales should confirm which reading is on the quote.

Sarvam, pay as you go

Service	Published rate	Used for
Language model	₹15 per million input tokens, ₹60 per million output tokens	sarvam-105b-conversations, only on an unmatched reply
Speech to text	₹0.49 per minute, billed per second	Saaras, on the customer's speech
Bulbul v3	₹3.00 per 1,000 characters	Ishita, one clause at a time
Translation	₹2.00 per 1,000 characters	Hindi, Kannada, Tamil, Telugu, and Malayalam

A Sarvam Pro plan at ₹9,999 a month lowers Bulbul v3 by ₹0.15 per 1,000 characters. At a few hundred calls that saving does not recover the fee, so these tables stay on pay as you go.

2. What one answered call uses

A full qualification, from the greeting through the visit close, is taken as about 1,800 characters spoken by the agent and about 1.5 minutes of customer speech sent to Saaras. The model is taken as ₹0.05, which covers a call that needs it once. A recognized answer does not call the model. These are planning figures, not an average measured from the scorecards.

English does not use translation. Hindi, Kannada, Tamil, Telugu, and Malayalam use the same translation price, so one of those calls costs the same as another. Bulbul is still charged for the translated line.

One answered call in English

Component	Basis	Ex GST	GST 18%	With GST
Speech to text	1.5 minutes × ₹0.49	₹0.73	₹0.13	₹0.87
Bulbul v3	1,800 characters × ₹3 / 1,000	₹5.40	₹0.97	₹6.37
Language model	One unmatched turn	₹0.05	₹0.01	₹0.06
One answered call		₹6.19	₹1.11	₹7.30

One answered call in Hindi, Kannada, Tamil, Telugu, or Malayalam

Component	Basis	Ex GST	GST 18%	With GST
Speech to text	1.5 minutes × ₹0.49	₹0.73	₹0.13	₹0.87
Bulbul v3	1,800 characters × ₹3 / 1,000	₹5.40	₹0.97	₹6.37
Translation	1,800 characters × ₹2 / 1,000	₹3.60	₹0.65	₹4.25
Language model	One unmatched turn	₹0.05	₹0.01	₹0.06
One answered call		₹9.79	₹1.76	₹11.55

Language comparison, one answered call

Language	Ex GST	GST 18%	With GST
English	₹6.19	₹1.11	₹7.30
Hindi, Kannada, Tamil, Telugu, or Malayalam	₹9.79	₹1.76	₹11.55
Extra for leaving English	₹3.60	₹0.65	₹4.25

A shorter call is closer to ₹3.60 of Bulbul before GST. A longer one is closer to ₹7.50. The language difference on this planning call is the translation line: ₹3.60 before GST, ₹4.25 with GST.

3. Exotel channels for the month

The channel fee is for the month, whether the list finishes in two days or runs the whole month. Five channels can carry about 500 answered calls of a few minutes each inside one or two calling days. One channel can walk the same list over several days. One hundred channels is the point where the lower rate applies, and it is not the cheaper bill unless that many calls really run at once.

Channels at once	AgentStream	Telco	Ex GST / month	GST 18%	With GST
1	₹1,000.00	₹675.00	₹1,675.00	₹301.50	₹1,976.50
5	₹5,000.00	₹3,375.00	₹8,375.00	₹1,507.50	₹9,882.50
100	₹67,500.00	₹67,500.00	₹1,35,000.00	₹24,300.00	₹1,59,300.00

Five channels at the under-100 rate are ₹8,375 before GST. One hundred channels at the lower rate are ₹1,35,000 before GST. The lower rate starts to win on the total bill only around 80 channels. An ExoPhone, the +91 caller ID, is a separate rental. Exotel's billing notes put a mobile or landline number at about ₹500 to ₹1,000 a month before GST. That range was not in the sales note.

4. A list of 500 customers

About 2 in 5 people answer. That is 200 conversations. The other 300 rings are not billed by the minute on Exotel's published rule, and they do not use Sarvam. Each answered call is taken as 4 minutes, which is 4 pulses of 60 seconds. The channels are the five-channel month.

Exotel has not given the rupee rate per pulse. Their billing page uses ₹0.50 per pulse as an example, not as this account's rate. The minute rows below use that example so the table has a number, and they are marked as an example.

On this list the channel fee is most of the bill. Language changes the Sarvam line only. Moving all 200 answered calls from English to another language adds about ₹720 before GST, ₹849.60 with GST.

5. If all 500 customers answer

Same five channels and the same 4-minute call. Sarvam and the minute charge rise with the conversations. The channel fee does not.

6. Still to confirm with Exotel

These four points change the Exotel lines. They do not change the Sarvam rates.

- Whether the ₹1,000 or ₹675 AgentStream channel and the ₹675 telco channel are both charged for every channel.
- The rupee rate per 60-second pulse for an outbound call to an Indian mobile. Until that arrives, the minute rows stay on the ₹0.50 documentation example.
- That a Voice AI bot is one outbound leg. Exotel's double charge is described for click-to-call, where a human agent is rung as well.
- Whether the channel fee is billed for the whole month when the list is finished in a few days, and the ExoPhone rental on this account.
